

My One-Page Profile

Your name:
Miss Abraham

What I like/ don't like

I like reading, learning, listening to music, going to concerts, origami, cooking Korean food, learning Korean, travelling, exercising, and walking my dog in Whippendell Woods.

I don't like cooked fish, mushrooms, empty sockets being left on, falling, dishonesty, or being bored.

What is important to me?

My family, my friends and my dog are all very important to me. I enjoy spending time with them, but I also need time to myself.

Celebrating diversity is extremely important. We need to respect our differences, listen to each other and try to understand each other.

It is important that I always try my best and think about how I could improve next time.

Apple Class are important to me and I look forward to getting to know all of you.

How best to support me with my work and feelings?

I need to understand how to achieve the learning objective. I enjoy working with a partner and in a group, but I also like to work independently. I find it interesting when I can show what I have learnt in different ways. I need to know what I did well and how I could improve to help me do better next time.

Sometimes I do not like to talk about my feelings. If my mood is low, I need you to be sensitive to my feelings. I feel better when I am enjoying a task because it helps to take my mind off it. If I am finding my work difficult, I can get frustrated and I might need help to be resilient.
